Township Register Gets Exclusive Pictures of Rescue at Dumbarton Bridge

PHOTO STORY

The Township Register was on hand last Friday to record the only photographs of the step-by-step heroic rescue of E. B. Erichsen of Mountain View, who leaped from Dumbarton Bridge in an attempt to end his life. The Register turned down several offers by metropolitan newspapers to buy the pictures, retaining them solely for its readers.

In the top photo rescuers Charles Frey (center) of Palo Alto and Harry Crouch (right) of Oakland, wait for a boat to take them and the man they saved from the cold water. Erichsen, in a state of semi-consciousness, is kept afloat by a life-ring and lines suspended from the bridge railing some 40 feet above.

In the second picture the weary men have placed Erichsen in the boat and Frey is helping Crouch into the boat after their ordeal of more than 40 minutes in the water.

The third photo shows the boat reaching the east shore of the bay, where Deputy Sheriff Robert Moore and two unidentified men help drag it up onto the rocks. Blood on Crouch's left leg is from cuts suffered when the tide swirled him against the rough bridge piling.

Bottom photo shows Erichsen being carried from the boat to the waiting ambulance. The wrist watch, visible on his left wrist, stopped at 1:42, indicating the time that he leaped into the bay.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT IS THWARTED AT DUMBARTON BRIDGE

A Mountain View city official, who later admitted embezzling public funds, was saved from an attempt to take his own life last Friday by a truck driver and a toll collector at Dumbarton Bridge, who rescued him from the waters of San Francisco Bay.

The man saved from death was E. B. Erichsen, 55, of 385 Loreto Street, Mountain View, and the two men who staged the heroic rescue were Harry Crouch, 38, of 838 40th Avenue, Oakland, and Charles Frey, 29, of 321 Weeks Street, Palo Alto.

WITNESSED PLUNGE
Crouch, a truck driver for K & P Aggregates, Hayward, was standing beside his stalled truck about 200 yards east of the tollgate of the bridge when he saw Erichsen stop his car nearby and jump over the railing of the bridge into the bay.

Crouch ran to the tollgate for help and then he and Frey, a bridge employee, dived from the 40-foot high bridge. They held Erichsen's

County Board Studies Local Tract Problem

The controversial problem of providing an adequate sewer system for the 608-home Tareyton Village subdivision at Decoto has been handed over to the Alameda County Board of Supervisors by the Planning Commission.

The commission, at a meeting held last Friday, ruled that the proposed plans for sewerage in the area involved a matter of county policy and should therefore be settled by the supervisors.

The supervisors have called a public meeting for 2 p.m. Monday, September 18, at which time they will study the proposal made by the T. R. Bechtel Company, subdividers, and the recommendations drawn up jointly by the county surveyor and the district attorney.

TWO MONTHS DELAY

Construction of homes in the tract has been delayed approximately two months due to the failure of the subdividers and the planning commission to reach an agreement on the method of sewerage in the tract.

The Bechtel Company's first proposal was that it would provide its own sewage system and disposal plant with the operation to be financed by a monthly charge to each householder.

The commission, however, failed to approve the private plan, basing its refusal on the possibility that such a system might not operate with financial success and would become a burden on the county taxpayers.

TWO ALTERNATIVES

One alternative is to annex the new subdivision to the Decoto Sanitary District, using Decoto's present sewage treatment plant. This proposal is not favored by the subdividers because of the necessity of pumping the sewage.

The second alternative is the formation of a new sanitary district embracing the subdivision. This proposal was presented to the planning commission for the first time at their meeting Friday and resulted in the ruling that the plan was a matter of county policy and not of county planning.

NEWARK SCHOOL ASKS BIDS ON NEW BUS

The Board of Trustees of the Newark Elementary School this week announced that they will accept bids to lease a new 71-passenger transit-type elementary school bus.

The bids will be accepted until September 30 at 10 a.m. at which time they will be opened by the board at their meeting at the school.

QUARESMA ELECTED I.D.E.S. DIRECTOR

Judge and Mrs. E. A. Quaresma returned Thursday after attending the I.D.E.S. convention of the Supreme Council at Santa Rosa.

The Judge was re-elected to the Board of Directors. He has been a member of the Portuguese-American fraternal organization for 30 years, serving as president during the 1934-35 year and holding office as director since that time.

A special feature of the convention, according to Judge Quaresma, was the honoring of the 50-year-or-more members. Among these was a local man, Joe Andrade of Warm Springs, who has been a member for 57 years.

REGISTER'S 'GUESS WHERE' CONTEST PROVES POPULAR

Residents of Washington Township were quick to respond to The Register's "Guess Where" contest which made its initial appearance in last week's issue.

Moments after last week's issue of The Register was distributed in each of the post offices of the township, the telephones in the Register office began ringing and they were kept busy most of the day.

As nearly all of the contestants guessed correctly, the subject of last week's picture puzzle was the ruins of the old winery across the railroad tracks from the depot in Irvington.

MANY CALLS

The first person to call and correctly identify the picture was John Amos of Kilkare Woods. Moments later Deputy Sheriffs Robert Moore of Centerville and Henry Vervais, Niles, both familiar with the setting of the picture, due to their numerous forays to that hobo campsite, phoned to identify the location.

Their calls were quickly followed by residents of Irvington, including—

NEWARK PAPER IS NO MORE

The Newark Times, published by George Oakes of Hayward, came to a quiet and unheralded death last week. The paper had been in publication for over a year.

When interviewed this week about the demise of the paper, Oakes said, "I have nothing to say. You can use your imagination."

The thriving little community of Newark will not be left without a local paper, however, for the Township Register, published in Niles, gives not only complete township coverage, but also devotes a department each week specifically to Newark news. The Newark correspondent is Mrs. Laura Brown.

4 Sanitary Districts Will Elect

Voters throughout Washington Township will go to the polls Monday to decide who will serve as board members in each of the four local sanitary districts.

Except for two who are running for the first time, all candidates are incumbents.

In the Union Sanitary District contest all six candidates boast board experience ranging from 3 to 32 years. Candidates George Coit and Manuel Bernardo have served as members of the Union board since its inception in 1918.

H. L. Scott has served for 12 years, and S. G. Scott and George Burr for six years. The other candidate, T. C. Gunn, has been a member for three years.

The Union Sanitary District has annexed the former Niles Sanitary District and now includes the Niles, Centerville and Newark areas. Polling places in these communities will be the justice court in Centerville, the grammar school in Newark, and the firehouse in Niles. All will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

In Decoto two incumbents with 14 years experience will run again.

However, they are opposed by Al Ferreira, who is running for the first time. The incumbents are George Smith and Clarence Frates.

Decoto voters will mark their ballots in the Masonic Home and the firehouse, the polling places to be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

There will be no contests in Irvington or Alvarado, where incumbents, with one exception, are running unopposed.

The exception is Candidate Joseph Pereira, who is running for the first time, and will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. J. H. Durham.

Polling places in this district, which includes Irvington and Mission San Jose, will be at the Leal Building in Irvington and the Solon Building in Mission San Jose, and will remain open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

All four incumbents in Alvarado will run for re-election. Three of them have served for four years, and one, Joseph Jacinto, has been a member of this board since it was organized.

The Alvarado candidates are M. P. Goularte, Alvin Rose, Fred Joyce Sr. and Jacinto. The polling place will be at the grammar school, which will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. also.

MANNING ACCEPTS TOWNSHIP CHAMBER SECRETARIAL POST

Colonel Eugene Manning, Centerville, this week accepted the appointment as executive secretary of the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce, effective September 15.

Manning will succeed Harold Speetzen, Irvington, who announced his resignation at a special meeting of directors last week.

The new secretary is a native of Colorado. He received his education in Nebraska at the University of Nebraska and Creighton University, where he received his degree as a doctor of dental surgery. He also took post-graduate work at Columbia University.

He entered the U. S. Army Dental Corps in 1926 and served until his retirement in 1946. During his army career Col. Manning served for three years on the staff at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco, was port dental surgeon from 1942 to 1944 until he went to the South Pacific with the Eighth Army.

Col. Manning and his family moved to Centerville following his retirement in 1946. For the past several months he has been associated with Dr. E. M. Grimmer Jr. in his dental office in Centerville.

He has announced that he will open a new office for the Township Chamber at the rear of the dental offices at 156 South Main Street, Centerville.

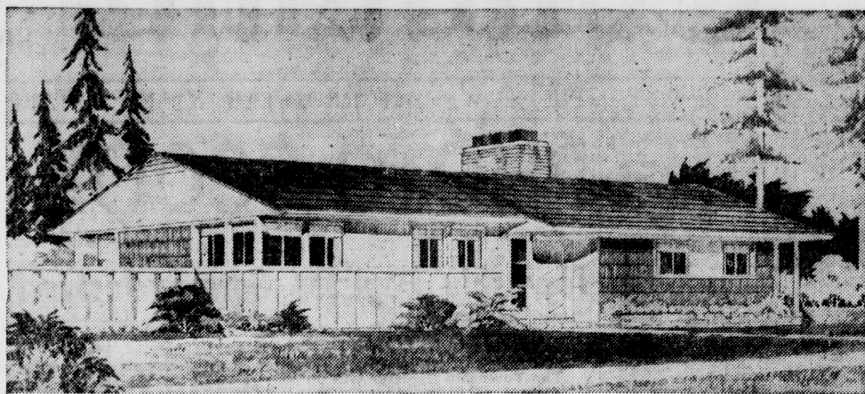

NEW PASTOR FOR NEWARK CHURCH

Rev. Riley Kaufman of Seattle has been selected as pastor of the Assembly of God Church at Newark and will assume his duties on September 24. He will succeed Rev. Henry C. Vancil who has resigned to accept another pastorate.

The new pastor, his wife and their nine-year-old daughter will reside in the church parsonage at 2481 George Street.

Mrs. Martha Thompson of Niles has been elected to succeed Mrs. Vancil as head of the Women's Missionary Council.

House Chosen for 'Livable Features'

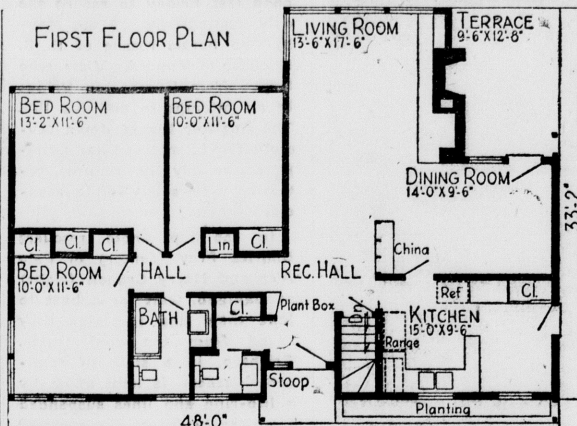

Because of its large number of "livable features," this house has been chosen as Plan No. 40 by American Builder magazine, 30 Church St., New York 7, N. Y.

American Builder says: "Entrance to a generous powder room is accessible from the reception hall. It is also handy to the kitchen. Economy is considered by the fact that the fixtures back up to the bathroom wall. A sliding cupboard door closes the opening between powder room and adjoining hall. Lavatory for powder room and bath is a built-in type with cupboards below.

"China cabinet and plant shelf divide dining room and reception area. Opposite wall of reception area contains a small plant box with recessed light above. Curtain valance over living room windows provides space for ornamental fluorescent lighting of ceiling. An extended brick facing is obtained through the use of a double fireplace serving both rooms. Bookcases fill in the remaining wall area on fireplace side of living room."

The home is an attractive example of the modern ranch style of design in which the architect, Walter T. Anicka, has specialized.

In order to take full advantage of the opportunity for achieving an individualized exterior color plan, the architect suggests basing the entire color scheme on the solid or blended hue selected for the asphalt shingle roof.

The dwelling has a total living area of 1,312 square feet and a volume of 18,368 cubic feet, figures useful in estimating construction cost.

(Detailed estimating plans and a complete home planning packet of building information are available from American Builder, 30 Church St., New York 7, N. Y. Refer to Plan No. 40.)

CANCEL HOSPITAL DISTRICT ELECTION

Action taken by the directors of the Washington Township Hospital District at a special meeting Thursday evening will result in the cancellation of the scheduled election in the district in November.

According to the new hospital law, enacted by the state legislature last year, no election is necessary when the incumbents are unopposed for re-election.

At their meeting last evening the local directors drew up a petition to the Alameda County Board of Supervisors informing them that the filing deadline of September 5 had passed with no opposing candidates filed. They therefore requested that the election be cancelled and the supervisors appoint three men to the positions.

The three local board members whose two-year terms have expired are L. S. Whitaker, Niles; Fred Melhase, Newark; and Allan Walton, Centerville. All of the incumbents are candidates for re-election for four-year terms.

RUMMAGE SALE IS SET FOR TODAY

Need any extra jeans for that growing school boy of yours? Need any "fillers-in" for your own wardrobe, such as an additional coat, a sweater perhaps, or even jewelry—at a real bargain?

Then this invitation to patronize Toyon's rummage sale today and tomorrow—being held at "The Dog Tank" in Niles—is meant especially for you.

The rummage sale, being sponsored by Toyon Branch of Children's Hospital, is strictly a benefit affair. All the proceeds go to the Children's Hospital. So, by patronizing the sale—which will feature bargains galore—you are not only doing yourself a service, but are at the same time benefiting the little victims of sickness who are confined in Children's Hospital.

George Washington was inaugurated as first president of the United States in New York City on April 30, 1789.

A TURKEY COSTS $54 IN RUSSIA!

Latest "Life in Russia" note is a striking commentary on the Communist way. Milk retails at $1.25 a quart; an average turkey goes for $54.00; oranges cost $1.25; tomatoes $1.00, and a roasting goose costs $32.00. And still the apologists for the American way of life would lead us down the road to statism!

FIRST DRAFTEES TO DUTY ON SEPT. 27

The first group of Southern Alameda County men to be called for duty with the armed forces under the renewed selective service program will depart from Hayward on Sept. 27.

Manuel W. Lewis, Centerville, member of Draft Board No. 54 which serves this area, said yesterday that 48 men will enter the armed services on that date, representing the September quota for the local board.

He stated that four or five men from Washington Township will be included in the first call to duty. Names of the men, however, will be withheld until they have actually reported for duty.

The group will depart from the draft board office at 2063 B Street in Hayward and will be taken to the Presidio in San Francisco for assignment to training bases. Age bracket for the group ranges from 22 to 25 years.

Lewis also stated yesterday that a call for men to report for pre-induction physicals in October is expected to be received by the local board next week.

EAGLES TO SPONSOR BENEFIT GAME

The Fraternal Order of Eagles in the East Bay Area, Martinez to Alvarado, inclusive, are having a night at the Oakland Ball Park on Friday, September 29.

The proceeds from tickets sold by the membership will be donated to the Sunrise School in Hayward. This school is a school for spastic children and suffered from $1500 to $2,000 damage through acts of vandalism. At present the school is supported only by civic and fraternal organizations in the area. The Alameda - Contra Costa Council, which coordinates the Eagles' activities in the area, has appointed Jimmy Ambrose of Emeryville as chairman, with the secretaries of each Aerie assisting him.

Only general admission tickets will be sold by the member. You may obtain box seats by calling the Oaks ticket office two days prior to the game and exchanging your general admission ticket, with fifty cents for a box seat ticket.

Buy at Donner Lake

Mr. and Mrs. William Hazel of Niles motored up to Donner Lake last week-end and, quite unexpectedly, became the owners of a piece of timber land up there. They were so enchanted with the area that they felt they wanted to own a piece of property. They plan to build a lodge in the spring.

Busiest Couple in The Township

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bernardo of Centerville returned last week from an eleven-day jaunt up in the north. They spent some time at Crescent City, then Mr. Bernardo spent six or seven days fishing on the Klamath. In that length of time he caught ONE fish! But he doesn't care, as he said he had a good time anyhow.

On the twenty-fifth of this month they expect to go up to Richardson Springs for a couple of weeks; then from there to a convention of the U.P.E.C. at Merced, which makes them about the busiest people in the township.

Their Third Daughter

Mrs. Thomas Power of Centerville has received word from Sedro-Woolley, Washington, that she has become the grandmother of a third granddaughter. Mr. Silverthorn, who formerly played professional baseball, is now in the dairy business with his father, raising strawberries and bulbs on the side.

Half a billion dollars at work for you

This picture shows what Standard of California has spent, since the war, on facilities needed to bring you more and better petroleum products... and to compete with other oil companies in this extremely competitive business.

But... what else has this money accomplished?

It has helped every community in the West... created jobs in many industries and made those of our own people better. The money has spread to other businesses, large and small, and to every profession. Homes have been built, automobiles purchased, educations planned and started for many of the West's young people.

We point this out to show how big companies make money work for everyone. And, certainly, the public must share the credit... for the public alone can make a company big. Over the years, you have found Standard products good and have bought more and more of them. You've made us grow. A large share of our profits each year is turned back into the tools which mean still better products and more efficient service for you. And, perhaps even more important today, the tools which give much added strength to our nation.

OLD PAPER TELLS OF LIFE HERE IN 1901

'HEARTS' PARTY ONE OF BIG SOCIAL EVENTS

How many remember what life was like in the township in 1901? In reading over a copy of "The Niles Herald" dated May 31, 1901—graciously sent in to The Register by Mrs. Jack Silva of Centerville—we find that life in the township was going on in much the same manner as it is today. There were church socials, visitors were going and coming, the Country Club was holding meetings, fruit buyers were bidding on the apricot crop, and death was taking a toll of some of the prominent citizens.

About the greatest difference between then and now is the fact that the residents of 1901 had much less of a water supply problem. The season's rainfall for that year totaled 24.28, as compared with 16.38 of our present year.

A front page story was headlined DEATH'S STERN CALL. The story tells about the death of Philip Hellwig, "a retired capitalist and pioneer of Alvarado. The deceased was a native of Prussia, 70 years, 9 months, and 14 days old. He leaves a widow and two sons, Frederick P. and George P., to mourn his loss."

Another front-page story is headlined MA SWEET COMING. The story reads:

"Ma Sweet and seven daughters of Sacramento have written to secure the Niles Opera House for Friday evening, June 7th, to give a benefit for the Trinity Episcopal Church. Admission 25 cents, which includes a social dance after the entertainment."

Some of the social items read: The Niles Christian Endeavor Society gave a house social at the home of Mrs. Waters-Thorne Wednesday evening. There were about thirty-five present and a very jolly time was had with games and music.

Mrs. Thomas Bedard gave a very pleasant "heart" party Wednesday afternoon. The house was decorated with sweet peas, moss roses and red paper hearts. There were seven tables and the ladies had a good time playing hearts. Dainty refreshments were served after the playing.

The June meeting of the Country Club will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. F. Horner near Centerville. There will be the usual business session, current events and musical numbers and a third talk by Mrs. Johnson of Oakland on Parliamentary law.

Mrs. H. A. Mayhew has recovered from a severe case of poison oak. Miss Florence has also been quite ill but is improving. Here's an interesting little item which, for some reason or other, is found with the social items:

We gratefully acknowledge the receipt of a generous box of the finest peas grown hereabout from Manuel Borges. They are thoroughly appreciated.

Down further in the social column is found this brief reminder: Ice and Coal sold in any quantity at J. A. Easterday's.

The following is lengthy but gives a graphic picture of the social life of the day, so we reprint it:

Mrs. Edward Clarke gave a very enjoyable reception Friday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence L. Brown of San Francisco. The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion with roses, ferns, smilax and pansies. The refreshments were served in the dining room at three tables. These had ovals of pansies for center pieces, leaving only room for the plates outside.

There were some very pretty spring costumes worn by the ladies. Mrs. Clarke was very becomingly attired in a silk waist with lace trimmings and a brown cloth skirt. Mrs. Brown wore an elegant blue silk dress trimmed with lace. Miss Ada Clarke wore pure white and Miss Mabel Clarke a white mull waist with a black skirt. Mrs. L. Pickering and Mrs. C. H. Allen were elegantly attired in black silk costumes.

The lunch was quite an elaborate one, consisting of salads, sandwiches, cold tongue and ham, olives, coffee, ice cream, cake and lemonade.

That the young maids and the young men of the times were finding it difficult to meet the mister or miss "right" even in those days is indicated by the following item:

A Bachelors Club is the latest and it is announced that it was called into existence owing to the Old Maids Club of Niles. A public meeting at the Town Hall is soon to be held.

IRVINGTON PLANS PUBLIC BARBECUE

A barbecue, open to the public, will be held Saturday, beginning at 6:30 p.m., at the Maple Hall in Irvington under the sponsorship of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce.

President Allan Hirsch announced at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Chamber, that Joe Borge, well known for his ability as a barbecue chef, will preside over the cooking of the steaks, which he described as being "nearly a pound apiece."

A musical program will be presented at the conclusion of the dinner, followed by an evening of dancing. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Chamber.

It was voted at Tuesday's meeting that the affair will also be given as a farewell party for Clifford Rogers, secretary, who has announced his resignation and will leave October 5 to return to active duty with the navy.

Montford Krueger has accepted the appointment of secretary to fill the vacancy when Rogers leaves.

WHOOPIING COUGH CASES REPORTED

Four new cases of whooping cough were reported in Washington Township during the past week, according to Dr. James C. Malcolm, county health officer. The township's cases were the only ones reported in all of the unincorporated area of the county.

TEN MEN REGISTER HERE FOR DRAFT

Ten Washington Township men have registered for the draft at the Niles office during the past month, according to Ella Joliff, volunteer registrar at the Ellsworth Company's office.

The registrants are: William Funk, Alvarado; Herbert Chan, Niles; Chew Choy, Niles; Donald Weston Emery, Newark; Pete Cervantes, Decoto; James Randolph Griffin, Irvington; Donald Joseph Faria, Niles; Tadashi Sehigahama, Centerville; Jesse Morales Guzman, Bloomington, and Ralph Lee Brannon, Centerville.

Pheasants were first liberated in California in 1889, but it was not until the early 1920s that they became firmly established.

ALVISO LIBRARY EXTENDS HOURS

Longer hours of service to the public became effective on August 11 at the Alviso Branch of the Alameda County Library, according to Mrs. Peter Logan, librarian. The library is now open Tuesdays from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., Thursdays and Fridays from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m., and on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

The extended schedule was arranged because of greater use of the library. The fiscal year just ended showed that a greater number of books was loaned for home use than ever before in the history of the branch.

The library is located in the home of Mrs. Brown on the Alvarado-Centerville road near Jarvis

LIPSTICK IS MADE FROM LAMB'S WOOL

BUT, you might ask, what has that got to do with the . . .

SANITONE DRY CLEANING METHOD!

JUST THIS. All fabrics contain natural oils similar to that in lamb's wool from which lipstick is made. These natural oils preserve the pliability, durability and drape of the cloth. Harsh dry cleaning dissolves these natural oils causing the material to become dried-out, lifeless, and susceptible to tearing and other forms of wear.

BUT

SANITONE is a gentle cleaner. SANITONE restores the material's natural oils, thereby preserving its durability and drape. SANITONE permits your clothes to enjoy a long life.

Why Bill Bibb and most P. G. and E. people like their jobs

Edward M. Linnell, Fall River Mills, California, was a blacksmith and welder with us before he retired on a pension. Ed is famous for his work with corrective horseshoes, and still runs a small forge in back of his home.

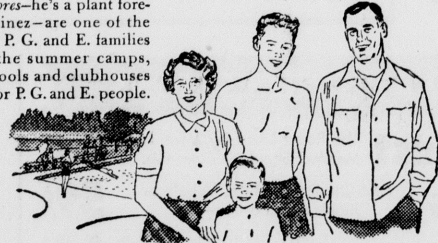

The fact that P. G. and E. people like their jobs is one reason why they do their jobs well. And that's important to every community we serve.

The job they do has been greatly responsible for keeping your gas and electric rates among the lowest in the nation. It's helped put an annual payroll of nearly $70 million into Northern and Central California. And from the projects P. G. and E. people have built come federal, state, county and local taxes amounting to $40,278,000 in 1949.

And, of course, their teamwork has enabled us to add 1,156,400 new horsepower since the war. By this time next year our total capacity will be nearly 4,000,000 horsepower—ample for our needs today, a good base to build on for the growing years ahead.

P. G. and E.
PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

The R. J. Moores—he's a plant foreman in Martinez—are one of the thousands of P. G. and E. families who enjoy the summer camps, swimming pools and clubhouses maintained for P. G. and E. people.

Virginia E. Harris, clerk in the General Office Engineering Department, was a pretty sick girl for two months last winter. But P. G. and E.'s cooperative Benefit Plan took care of practically all her expenses. And she's planning to catch up on the skiing she missed last season when the first good snow hits the hills.

SCOUTERS OUTLINE FALL PROGRAM

Boy Scouts of the Oakland Area Council will hold their annual Jamboree and Camp at the Rancho Los Mochos over the week-end of October 14-15, according to Abe Atwood, district commissioner.

The council's Roundup and yearly Roll Call and Uniform Inspection are now under way.

Fred Duffie, chairman for the Washington Township Rally, said the local Scouts rally will be held at Livermore in November and will feature scoutcraft competition.

IRVINGTON CLUB SUFFERS SHUT-OUT

The Irvington Merchants suffered their second shut-out of the season on Sunday at the hands of the Central Cafe Club of Redwood City.

Manager Frank Mayer's club committed four costly errors which added to the sting of the 7 to 0 loss. Pitcher Tony Dutra gave up but eight hits and struck out six.

The Irvington lads got but five scattered hits and Delserto, Redwood City mound ace, whiffed 10 batters.

Mayer said this week that the Irvington Club will probably play two more games before disbanding for the season.

NEW EVENING CLASS FOR BUSINESSMEN

An adult evening class, designed for business men with what has been termed "middle-age spread" will be offered at Washington Evening School each Wednesday beginning September 20.

Coach Irving Hird, who will be in charge of the class, said this week that the class will be held between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. and will feature badminton.

HUSKY VARSITY LEAN IN SUBS, SAYS GRID COACH

With a "merely hopeful" attitude, Jud Taylor, football coach of the Washington Union High School varsity, has been pushing his squad this week to get them in reasonable shape for their non-conference opener with Polytechnic High School September 29, on the home gridiron.

His attitude is based on the fact that June graduation took 17 regulars from last year's team, and this year's line-up, for the most part, has one thing in common—they're green.

Taylor said he has no problem in the fullback spot with George Pagan and Jack Bribes back on the job. Paul Zeisse and George Silveira are back at the end posts.

Although veteran tackles Jim McDonald and Willie Funk, who is an outstanding lineman; Gilbert Cicairos and Bernie Leal, halfbacks, and Duane Spence, center, have returned for another season, Coach Taylor is viewing the quarterback and guard positions rather apprehensively. And the problem of substitutes still remains.

Letterman Savio Elizarrey, who played in the backfield last season, has decided to continue working rather than play football, and veteran guard Bill Salvador was advised to forget about playing this year when a shoulder injury began to bother him in practice early this week.

However, on the bright side, the passing combination of Pagan to Silveira is available to pull the Huskies out of the rough whenever needed, and seven of Coach Hird's players from the undefeated Pupies have moved up to join the big boys.

Among the new heavyweights are: Jack Ferraris, quarterback; Jerry Ornelas, halfback; Eddie King, center; Jimmy Gould, guard; Lee Walton, end; and Richard Duarte and Bob Brazil, tackles.

DEER SEASON IN THIS AREA ENDS

Deer season in this area will close at one-half hour after sunset Friday, September 15, but hunters will set out Saturday, September 16, in an effort to beat their 1949 record take of 52,000 deer as the state's second and major deer hunting season opens in 36 counties for a one-month run.

Two bucks is the seasonal limit in Del Norte, Trinity, Humboldt, Tehama and westerly portions of Shasta and Siskiyou counties. One buck is allowed elsewhere, except that no forked horns may be taken in Modoc County and portions of Lassen, Shasta and Siskiyou counties.

Officials of the Division of Fish and Game announced this week that deer tag returns for the early hunting season have been lagging approximately 10 per cent behind last year's totals.

Hunters have been warned to check with county officials prior to departing on their hunting trips as some of the counties have postponed the opening of seasons because of the forest fire hazard.

NEWARK MAN PAYS $25 FOR COTTONTAIL

A hunting trip near Newark last week proved to be a costly outing for Ernest Alexander of Newark. Alexander bagged a jackrabbit and a cottontail and then was himself bagged by Alameda County Game Warden Fred Rogers of Centerville.

He entered a plea of guilty before Judge Allen G. Norris in Centerville court last Friday to a charge of shooting a cottontail out of season and paid a fine of $25.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS SEEK EMPLOYMENT

The Placement Bureau operated by Washington Union High School has an abundance of high school students desiring part-time work, according to Warren Gravestock, vice-principal.

Gravestock said that the students have registered with the bureau for all types of after school and Saturday employment. He asked that persons having need for any work by the students phone the school, Centerville 8-8302.

Mariposa County is one of the few California counties which lost population in the period 1940-50.

WUHS PUPPIES HAVE RECORD SIGN-UP

A record sign-up last Tuesday of 69 players sent Irv Hird, coach of the 30's football team, scampering through the Washington Union High School attic in search of 19 more uniforms.

Hird said he is determined to find additional uniforms so that he won't have to cut any of the lightweights from the squad.

Of the 69 hopefuls, 25 are veterans from last year's Santa Clara Valley Athletic League championship team.

Prospects for the season brightened considerably when eight lettermen from the 1949 undefeated squad weighed in. Hird said he now has six good backs, good ends, and a good center, but needs guards and tackles.

The coach has been drilling his squad in fundamentals prior to scrimmaging them sometime next week in preparation for their first non-conference game against Hayward High School lightweights on the W.U.H.S. gridiron September 29, at 6 p.m.

The veteran players who have returned to the line-up this season are: Merle Bechtold, center; Jesse Martinez, end; John Rivera, Joey Orochi, Joe Gonsalves, Angelo Gonzalez, Ray Barrios, and Jerry Furtado, backs.

HIGH RATINGS TO LOCAL DAIRIES

Dairymen of Washington Township rated high in the production of butterfat per cow, according to the August report of the Alameda County Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

In the standings of dairies milking less than 100 cows, James Nunes of Centerville placed second with an average of 46.8 pounds of fat per cow.

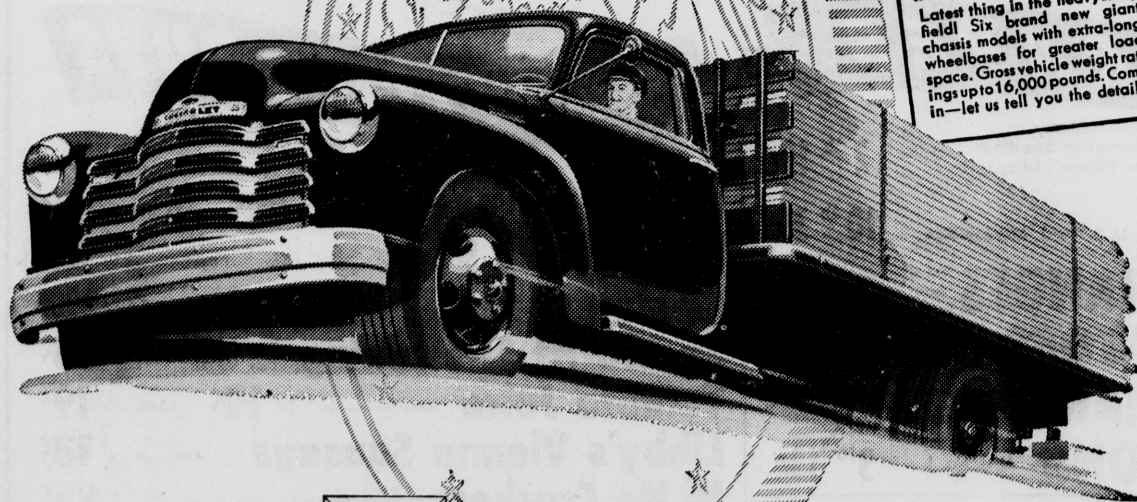

Among the dairies testing between 100 and 200 cows, J. S. Costa of Irvington had the highest average with 45.8 pounds of fat per cow.

Dairies in Alameda County being tested by the Dairy Herd Improvement Association are: Tony DeValle, Centerville; Bob Zwissig, Irvington; Carl Ackerman, Centerville; J. S. Costa, Irvington; James Nunes, Centerville; Zwissig Brothers, Decoto; Julius Luis, Centerville; Wipfi Brothers, Irvington; Louis Marchy, Newark; Herman Burch, Irvington, and M. Schelbert, Irvington.

WEST'S FIRST TELEVISION NETWORK

Relay system to operate between San Francisco and Los Angeles

1. Amplifying equipment like this is connected with the hornlike antennas above to relay television programs or long distance telephone calls from one part of the country to another. Engineers call it micro-wave...for it uses high-frequency radio waves, and it gets its nickname, "Jump-Jump," because the beams leap-frog between relay stations located on mountains 28 to 65 miles apart.

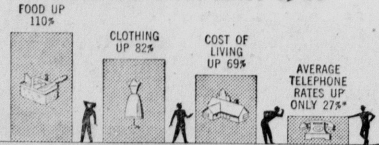

2. Television programs can be relayed from one point to another by micro-wave or by coaxial cable. The first leg of a Western television network will begin operating between San Francisco and Los Angeles September 15 over the newly-completed "Jump-Jump" system. And we're going ahead with surveys and experiments to extend the television network to other areas of the West.

3. The research which produced this micro-wave system was conducted in Bell Telephone Laboratories...originators of so many electronic developments. Hundreds of them have led to better telephone service at lower cost...and have played a major part in making your telephone the big value it is today. For in spite of rising prices, telephone rates have gone up much less than our costs of providing service. On the average, our prices have gone up less than half as much as the cost of living generally.

DECOTO SCHOOL ENROLLMENT 670

Six hundred and seventy pupils have been enrolled at the Decoto Grammar School during the first three days of the 1950-51 school year, and 100 more are expected, District Superintendent L. W. Musick stated Wednesday.

Total kindergarten enrollment for both schools is 56, and 10 or 11 more are expected, Musick said.

The district superintendent attributes the large late enrollment to the fact that many pupils are presently helping their parents harvest tomatoes, and will register within the next few weeks.

The fall opening of both Decoto schools was delayed to allow time for completion of construction of yard facilities at the new school on Whipple Road.

MILITARY HONOR ROLL IS RENEWED

The Washington Township Honor Roll, a project which its sponsors the Centerville Lions Club, had hoped was forever terminated, is to be expanded and brought up to date.

At Tuesday's dinner-meeting of the Lions Club it was pointed out by A. E. Alameda that work must again be resumed to bring the listing of names up to date and add the names of the youths now leaving for military services.

The Citizenship committee, composed of Joe Bauhofer, Ralph Goodwin, LeRoy Brown and James Collins, was named by President Edward L. Rose to continue the project.

LOST IN NILES

I set out with the mother of a six-year-old boy one afternoon this week to try to locate her missing son. This entailed interviewing all sorts and descriptions of other six-year-olds, in order to establish some sort of clue to his whereabouts.

We drove all over town and up and down the highways, stopping all little boys with the question, "Do you know Tommy?"

The first youngster we pulled up alongside of eyed us speculatively. "Unh-uh," he said briefly, wallowing a sucker around in his mouth.

We weren't quite sure whether this meant he did or he didn't, so we pursued our questioning.

"If you DO know Tommy," we went on patiently, "do you know where he is now? You see, he's lost."

His eyes lit up. "Gee!" he said excitedly. "A lot of kids are lost today. Pra'kly everybody in our grade is lost, I guess."

"But," we went on relentlessly, "the only one we're looking for is Tommy. Do you know Tommy?"

"Unh-uh," he said, pulling his sucker out of his mouth and eyeing it with obvious pain. (You could see it was diminishing in size.)

We decided we were getting nowhere with this interview, so drove up to a group of little boys—none of whom were over seven years old.

We went through our routine. "Do you know Tommy? Are any of you in his grade at school?"

They were delighted that we had stopped to talk to them, even though they completely ignored our reason for so doing. One wide-eyed youngster said happily, "You know what I got? I got a new bike!"

"Fine!" we exclaimed, trying to appear thrilled, so that we could hold his attention. "Now, will you please tell us if Tommy is in your grade?"

"Yep!" said the boy with the bike, obviously trying to please.

"You don't know him," said a solemn-faced boy. "He ain't in your grade."

"He is, too!"

"He ain't either!"

"HE IS TOO!"

"HE AIN'T EITHER!"

They started fighting—first-fighting. We looked at them in horror for a minute, then decided it was time to flee. Which we did.

As we looked back over our shoulders we could see a woman pulling them apart. One of the boys was pointing at us. We could surmise what he was saying, "THEY started it!"

We drove on until we came to a lone youngster of six-ish who carried a wooden home-made gun over his shoulder.

He wasn't much interested in us. You could tell by his indifferent air that he could take us, or leave us alone. Preferably leave us alone.

But we questioned him.

He preferred not to talk about Tommy however. A mysterious, murderous look came into his eyes and he said, "D'ya know what I do with this gun?"

We didn't. We were a little alarmed, though, at the desperate look in his eye, and if the gun had been anything but what it was, I'm sure we would have fled in panic.

"What do you do with it?" we asked, actually hanging on his every word.

"I kill blackbirds," he retorted, "and eat 'em—RAW!"

We got away from this interview-ee in a hurry. Then went on to another little group of boys. One boy said he'd seen Tommy getting on the school bus.

"He didn't either!" screamed another boy.

"That's all right, boys, just skip it," we intervened hurriedly. After all, grown-up women can't go around town promoting fights between six-year-old boys. Maybe you'll get by with it once, but certainly not twice—at least not in one afternoon.

After interviewing the next little angel who said, consoling, "I think I seen him walkin' on the railroad trestle. Maybe he fell off," the frantic, bewildered mother decided she'd better go home and just collapse on the sofa.

Eventually, of course, Tommy showed up. Where was he?

"I was just playin' with a kid," he announced unconcernedly.

I don't know how his mother felt about it, but all I could think of saying to the little darling at this point was, "Get lost!" which wasn't exactly appropriate.

At the LIBRARY

By ELAINE HOWE

People do the most interesting things—that is why books of personal experiences are always in such demand in the library. Whether it's living an idyllic life on an island remote from civilized ways, or building bridges in Timbuctoo, we all enjoy reading about other people's experiences—those hardy souls who do what they want to do, and never suffer boredom—or almost never.

For example here's a war book, though not on the grim side and a highly original tale it is, "Wooden Horse" by Eric Williams. Remember the wooden horse that helped the Greeks take Troy? Three American flyers in a German prison camp hit on this idea for a movable wooden horse set up for "exercise." It could be moved along to hide the sounds of men digging a tunnel to freedom right under the noses of the guards. Even after they got out of camp, there was still the width of occupied France to cross. It reads like a thriller in the field of fiction.

Most men at some time in their lives decide that a sailor's life has all the advantages. Clarence Ben-

NEW TEACHER ADDED TO NILES SCHOOL STAFF

One new teacher was added to the staff at the Niles Elementary School this week, according to E. Dixon Bristow, district superintendent.

The new instructor is Edward Pierce, a graduate of San Jose State College.

Bristow stated that the enrollment in the seventh grade reached 54 and an additional teacher was necessary to split the class into double sessions.

ham thinks so and spent many years diving for pearls in the South Pacific. His account of his adventures is "Pearl Diver's Luck." In it he tells about undersea life and the terrain "forty fathoms down," the effects on the diver of depth, pressure, and all the tricks of diving.

I mentioned life on the remote island above. Elizabeth Ogilvie lives on one of those—Little Gay's Island off the Maine coast. Her first impressions of scraggly underbrush and smelly mud flats were later forgotten in the delights of living close to nature—wild strawberries in a hollow, hidden coves to explore, an apple tree crowned with the best apples ever. Her life there, simple, busy, content, is refreshing to read about.

A long way from these books is "To Meet Will Shakespeare" by F. E. Hill. However much has been written about the greatest writer known to mankind, much still remains shrouded in mystery. This book, frankly fictionalized, lays no claim to any new discoveries. The author has tried to relate all the existing background material to show the living man—the world he lived in and what made him great. An informal story—almost a historical novel.

COST OF WAR IS MORE

Despite the staggering cost of World War II, tank for tank, gun for gun, and plane for plane, the cost of war today is higher—much higher.

The most frightful cost of all of war—its loss of life and personal sorrow and hardship—never can be estimated.

On a dollar and cents basis, however, the magazine U. S. News and World Report points out that "inflation has hit war just as it has everything else."

According to the U. S. News survey, "police action" in Korea can run four billion dollars a year in addition to the near 14 billion dollars already being spent for national defense. An all-out effort would approximate 124 billion dollars a year as compared to the peak cost of 89 billion for 1944 in World War II.

SHOE PRICE PROBLEM

For instance, it is pointed out that in World War II a rifle cost $40. Today it costs $64. A bazooka then cost $36.25; today, $122. A World War II fighter plane was $100,000; now they cost $150,000. Now it costs 75 million dollars to outfit a division rather than 14 million. A pair of shoes has nearly doubled in price.

Soldiers are paid more today, too. The U. S. News survey finds that a private makes $95.33 base pay now, as against $54 in the last war. Sergeants are paid $139.65 as against $96 in 1942, and a captain makes $313.50 instead of $200.

Food prices which have climbed for civilians are up for the Army, too. In the last war a man was fed for 51 cents a day. Now it takes 96 cents and may increase.

Taken all together, some $4000 are needed per soldier per year at this time while during World War II it was $1900 a year.

SUBMARINE JEEPS

Continuing its survey, the U. S. News reports that new weapons are tremendously more expensive than the old. The more complicated, the higher the price. A jeep used to cost $1051. Today jeeps can ford streams while completely submerged and do a number of things which their predecessors were incapable, but cost $2670 each. Old type submarines used to cost slightly over six million dollars each. The new snorkel-type are almost double in price. So its goes. Gasoline, uniforms, lumber, rubber, metal—it is all more expensive.

In shouldering the burden today, soldiers and civilians alike are proving again that wars are never cheap, quick or easy. War takes manpower, it takes money, it takes resources. The price of peace from time immemorial has come high to those who value individual liberty. Yet peace and liberty—and national self-respect—are worth any price to a free people so long as the goal ahead is a better world for all.

NILES DOCTOR EXPECTED HOME FROM MEXICO SOON

Dr. E. C. Grau, who has been vacationing in Mexico and Guatemala, is expected to return home by plane this Sunday night. Mrs. Grau and daughter, Betty, will motor up later in the car.

During Dr. Grau's absence, his patients are being cared for by Dr. C. Reid Smith and Dr. Rodney Palmer, both of Hayward.

MOTOR OVERBOARD

Hope it never happens to you, but outboard motors have been lost overboard and a great many other things can happen to them. For peace of mind and full protection, we recommend Outboard Motor and Motorboat Insurance.

FORMER NELDA HAMMOND, BRIDEGROOM NOW HONEYMOONING AT YOSEMITE

St. Joseph's Church in Mission San Jose was the setting for the last Sunday nuptials of Nelda Hammond, daughter of Mrs. Helena Hammond and of Mr. Everett Hammond, and Philip Erlwein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Erlwein of San Leandro.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white satin and embossed marquisette gown, with finger-tip veil held in place with a coronet. She carried a prayer book, with marker of white orchids and stephanotis.

Ebba Rae Benbow, the maid of honor was in green satin, and carried a French bouquet.

The bridesmaids, Geraldine Fernandez of Centerville and Geraldine Berndt of San Leandro, were in similar gowns, but carried pink bouquets, in contrast to Miss Benbow's yellow one.

Jack Erlwein was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Robert Berndt and Jess Bautista of San Leandro.

The Rev. Father Gerald Cox, a lifelong friend of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony. Harold Speetzen was at the organ, and the soloist was Rosalie Rogers, who sang "Ave Maria."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hammond chose a burgundy crepe gown, with black accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Erlwein, the bridegroom's mother, selected a deep wine-colored suit, and she, too, wore an orchid corsage.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Country Club, where 300 guests assembled to felicitate the happy pair. Flower arrangements at the Club were done by Mrs. Delphine Soito of Centerville.

TRUCK OVERLOADS DAMAGE HIGHWAYS

The State Public Utilities Commission has really taken off the gloves in its recommendation to the Legislature that stern measures be put in force in order to bring the destructive practice of truck overloading to an end in California.

Asserting in its highway survey report that present penalties are proving "inadequate and ineffective in controlling overloading violations," the commission recommends, among other things, that penalties be stiffened even to the extent of cancelling or suspending the right to operate on the highways for those guilty of "consistent, flagrant disregard" of the vehicle code and commission safety rules.

The three men were in the chilly water for more than 40 minutes until a rowboat arrived to transfer them to the east shore of the bay, where the Township Ambulance was waiting.

ADMITS THEFT OF FUNDS

At Fairmont Hospital Erichsen told Deputy Sheriff Ken Hoenes that he was the city clerk at Mountain View. He said that he had embezzled city funds, taking from $30 to $40 from time to time because his income as city clerk, $1680 a year, was not enough to support his family. He had held the position since 1936.

He was transferred from Fairmont Hospital on Friday evening to the Santa Clara County Hospital by Mountain View Police Captain Arthur Nielsen.

$10,000 GOAL FOR CHURCH CAMPAIGN

The fund-raising campaign of the Centerville Presbyterian Church, to provide money for the construction of a new minister's home, will open Sunday, September 24. On that day the Rev. Lester F. Eisel, campaign director, will speak on the topic, "The Challenge of the Church," at the 11 a.m. service.

During the week that follows the members of the campaign committee will call on residents of the township for contributions in an endeavor to attain their $10,000 goal. The drive will close on Sunday, October 1.

Robert A. Kithcart, campaign chairman, said this week, "The Presbyterian Church has served this community for three-quarters of a century. The church and present minister's home have stood for all this time. The church is now in good condition but the manse is about to fall apart. After much thought and prayer, the decision was reached to build a new home on the site of the present home for the present pastor and for those who follow him."

SUPERVISORS ASK FOR RECOGNITION AS SEPARATE AREA

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors combined forces yesterday with various eastside groups, including the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, in their campaign for recognition of Alameda, Solano and Contra Costa counties as a "standard metropolitan area."

The board went on record unanimously supporting the effort, which seeks official recognition by the federal Bureau of Census for the three counties as a single metropolitan unit for census taking purposes.

Harry Bartell, chairman of the board of supervisors, described the move as a forward step. "Due recognition on the part of the Bureau of Census would result in such benefits as new markets, further industrial and residential development, increased national advertising, and stepped-up retail sales," he said.

COMMUNITY CHEST CHAIRMEN NAMED

Community chairmen for the forthcoming Community Chest fund drive were named this week by Mrs. Stella Benbow, campaign chairman.

Heading the corps of volunteer solicitors in each of their communities will be: Walter Oakley, Alvarado; Mrs. Ralph Logan, Alviso; Mrs. Henry Enos, Niles; Mrs. Ray Rodriguez and E. B. Hodges, Centerville; William Beck, Newark; Mrs. Vernon Leal, Irvington; John Souza and Mrs. Bruce Michael, Warm Springs, and Mrs. Glenn Bottenberg, Mission San Jose. A chairman to head the drive in Decoto is yet to be named.

Judge Allen G. Norris, Centerville, has again accepted the appointment as advanced gifts chairman, Mrs. Benbow stated.

The campaign will open here on September 25 and the chairmen are hopeful of raising their goal of $7525 by the closing date of October 10.

TEACHERS NEEDED IN AGRICULTURE

"About fifteen high schools in California will be unable to offer any instruction in vocational agriculture during the coming year," said Professor S. S. Sutherland of the University of California College of Agriculture.

All teacher trained institutions in California qualified only 35 new teachers in 1950, according to figures released by the Bureau of Agricultural Education of the State Department of Education.

About 35 more will be needed to meet the most urgent needs of the Vocational Agricultural program in this state.

This figure, Professor Sutherland pointed out, does not take into account the possible loss of teachers as a result of the present military situation.

"Professional opportunities in this field," he added, "are wide open for well-qualified men."

U. C. MAN COLLECTS DATA ON APHIDS

There is hardly an agricultural or ornamental plant that is not infected by one or more species of aphids. Because of their small size and the great numbers of species, few people are skilled in properly identifying them.

In 1909, the importance of proper identification for ultimate control was recognized by Professor E. O. Essig, chairman of the division of entomology and parasitology of the University of California's College of Agriculture. He then undertook the task of studying and publishing on aphids. Today he has accumulated what is probably the largest named collection of aphids in the world.

Identifications are made, not only for entomologists, but also for plant pathologists working on virus diseases of plants, farm advisors of the University's Agricultural Extension Service, agricultural commissioners, and many others. This most important service is rendered directly to members of the College of Agriculture working on the many problems of agricultural crops and ornamental trees; foresters making surveys and conducting insect control in forests and on shade trees; and to the entomologists of the State Department of Agriculture.

Professor Essig's work proves that properly conducted research takes time, and the results materially benefit the agricultural prosperity of the state.
